

GETTING IN CORK

By plane

Cork International Airport, is the airport serving directly the city. From this airport you can reach the city center and your hotel in the following ways:

- by bus (40 minutes): for the timetable and ticket you can visit the official website;
- by taxi: The taxi rank is located directly outside the terminal building.

Getting around the city

On foot

Discovering the city on foot is pretty easy. Cork is not a very big city so it is perfectly walkable and it is for sure the best way to explore the city!

By bicycle

Do you want to explore the city but do not like to walk? Then the best way to get to know the city is to rent a bike. All around the city, you can find bike stalls where to rent a public bike to use during your stay. At the following website, you can see the main public provider of bikes in the city.

By bus

Buses in Cork are the best way to reach every part of the city, from the city center to the suburbs and the airport. The main provider is Cork Bus and on their official website, you can have the information on the timetables and the prices.
